Dear Brady Families & Students:

Thank you for your patience throughout the Jeffco restart. We are so excited to work with you and to get back to learning!

Counselors have been working to develop schedules for students based on your family’s preference for remote or hybrid learning. To see your student’s schedule, please visit the Infinite Campus Parent and Student portals starting August 24 at 8 a.m. You will be able to access your student’s schedule there. If your student is part of a hybrid cohort, the days your student will attend school in person starting September 8 are indicated on the schedule. It will be either Monday and Wednesday OR Tuesday and Thursday. All classes will begin remotely on August 24, and teachers will be reaching out to each student. Students should log in to all classes via Schoology.

If your student’s schedule is blank, it means that you did not respond to the district survey, counselors were unable to reach you, or your student is not currently enrolled at Brady. Please email the counseling department coordinator, Ms. Susana Telleria at susana.telleria@jeffco.k12.co.us with the name of your student and your updated contact information so that a counselor can follow up with you.

If you haven’t already done so, please make sure to complete your registration online on the Brady website (https://brady.jeffcopublicschools.org/home). You are not considered enrolled until the form is complete.

Very important: Your student will not be able to access Schoology until you have updated Jeffco Connect, which must be done every year. If you need help with Jeffco Connect, visit the Brady website and click on the Register Returning Students link on the home page.

Students who are interested in joining the BUILD apprenticeship or internship program, please click this link to apply: https://forms.gle/vG4m45i1ZF55GVP18.
